The screenshot shows the Scopus Preview homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Author search', 'Sources', 'Help', 'Register', and 'Login'. A red arrow points to the 'Login' link. Below the navigation bar, a banner reads 'Login required to access Scopus'. Underneath, there are two main sections. The left section, titled 'Login using your Elsevier credentials', includes a 'Remember me' checkbox, a 'Not Registered?' link, and a 'Forgotten your username or password?' link. It also features a 'Login' button and a link to 'OpenAthens login'. A red arrow points to the 'OpenAthens login' link. The right section, titled 'Check out your free author profile!', includes a link to 'Looking for free journal rankings and metrics?'. At the bottom of the page, there are links for 'About Scopus', 'Language', and 'Customer Service'.

The screenshot shows the 'Login via your Institution' page. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Author search', 'Sources', 'Help', 'Register', and 'Login'. Below the navigation bar, a banner reads 'Login via your Institution'. Underneath, there is a section titled 'OpenAthens login' with a search bar and a list of institutions. A red arrow points to the 'Ecole des Mines de Saint-Etienne' institution. Below the search bar, there is a 'Login' button. At the bottom of the page, there are links for 'About Scopus', 'Language', and 'Customer Service'. The footer includes the Elsevier logo, copyright information, and a link to the RELX Group.

The screenshot displays the Scopus Author search page. At the top, a blue banner contains the text: "To determine which author names should be grouped together under a single identifier number, the Scopus Author Identifier uses an algorithm that matches author names based on their affiliation, address, subject area, source title, dates of publication, citations, and co-authors. Documents with insufficient data may not be matched, this can lead to more than one entry in the results list for the same author. By default, only details pages matched to more than one document in Scopus are shown in search results. About Scopus Author Identifier". Below this, the navigation bar includes "Documents", "Authors" (highlighted with a red arrow), "Affiliations", and "Advanced". The "Authors" section contains input fields for "Author last name" (with a red arrow pointing to it), "Author first name", "Affiliation", and "ORCID". A "Search" button is visible. A blue box at the bottom right contains the text: "Help improve Scopus".

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the Scopus search results for the author 'delafosse'. The page has a dark blue header with the Scopus logo and navigation links. Below the header, a teal banner indicates '51 author results'. The main content area is white and contains a sidebar on the left with filters for 'Source title' and 'Affiliation'. The main table lists author results with columns for Author, Documents, Subject area, Affiliation, City, and Country/Territory. A red arrow points to the 'View last title' link for the second author, David Delafosse, which is highlighted in blue.
